FROM THE CEO'S DESK

Dear Investor,

The Finance Minister (FM) had a tough task when he rose to present the Finance Bill in the Parliament on 26th February, 2010. The FM's task was complex since on one hand he had to take measures to reduce the fiscal deficit as a percentage of the GDP and on the other hand he had to start the roll back of the stimulus provided to the economy by way of lower interest rates and ample liquidity to counter the negativity arising out of the global economic collapse in 2007 and 2008.

We would give very high marks to the FM on the vision he has displayed and the way he has balanced out the diverse expectations by way of a very pragmatic budget.

While he has initiated the roll back of the easy times, he has been very tentative (excise duty being increased only by 2% and still leaving it at a rate lower than the pre-crisis excise duty rate). While he knows that India needs funds to finance its infrastructure and social needs, he has tried to keep the Government borrowing programme lower than the previous year, trying to bridge the fiscal deficit by factoring in Rs. 40,000 crs of divestment. If the GDP in the coming year is higher than what the FM has predicted, the fiscal deficit number % might be lower than projected and vice versa.

Doing away with the Petroleum bonds and depending only on cash subsidy is a step towards greater transparency.

Simultaneously he has placed more money in the hands of the tax payers by adopting a liberal tax structure where he has done a rejig in tax slabs. The extra money in the hands of the tax payers will go to an extent to increase consumption and also promote savings, both positives for the economy. The extra consumption spread across various sectors will help in most of the sectors doing well.

There were several other positives in the budget, however we felt that power could have been paid more attention with so many of our cities and towns undergoing power cuts every day.

The FIIs and stock market investors signalled a thumb's up to the FM with the NIFTY and SENSEX rising sharply during Intra day trade before settling at more than a 1% gain.

With leading economies like USA & Japan also on their way to recovery, though the US rate of unemployment remains a matter of concern, the confidence level of investors across the globe seems to be heading towards a positive change. We still need to watch out how the economies of Europe span out in the months to come.

If India walks the talk of the FM, chances are bright that the international rating agencies will improve India's credit ratings which will in turn lead to higher allocations by FIIs to India.

In the meantime we feel that the Indian stock markets may either be range bound or look up in the coming FY and we do not rule out Indian stock markets attaining an all time high in the coming FY.

On the Fixed Income side, while it is almost certain that the RBI governor will increase the interest rates in the next Credit Policy due in April 2010, it now appears in the light of this budget that the difference between the rates prevailing now and that in December 2010 may not be worrisome.

The credit pick up might be seen in the second quarter of the coming FY and the liquidity, barring unforeseen circumstances may not be tight in the coming FY.

Taurus MF continued its strong growth on the Fixed Income as well as on Equity AUM, and our Equity and Fixed Income funds figured high in terms of returns. We declared dividends in Taurus Ethical Fund and Taurus Tax Shield in the month of February and feel that all our funds have a bright future in the times to come.

We would recommend that Equity investors remain invested and keep investing regularly lest they miss out on a sharp rally in the markets.

Wishing you a great start for the coming Financial Year..

Kind regards

Yours truly,

Waqar Naqvi

Fund Manager's Comment: The budget for FY11 has increased allocation to the education, rural health care and agriculture. This should result in huge investment flow to these sectors. The per-capita income of India should increase on back of strong GDP improvement fuelling the growth in domestic consumption. We continue to remain bullish on the education, lifestyle product and financial services as these sectors are expected to see huge demand due to economic rebound and positive sentiment among the individuals, especially in the urban areas.

Fund Manager's Comment: The process of building-up a core portfolio continued during the month. The portfolio was brought more in-line with the benchmark Index-BSE100. The union budget for FY11 has effectively reduced the tax liability on individuals. This will result in increased disposable income in the hands of individuals, a positive factor for the domestic consumption story. We continue to remain bullish on the sectors related to domestic consumption story. Preferred sectors are Auto, retail and Healthcare.

Fund Manager's Comment: The average AUM for the scheme crossed Rs. 2000 Cr in February. The liquidity condition was comfortable in February, even though we saw an outflow of around Rs. 36,000 Cr due to the CRR hike. There was pressure on the short tenor yields and the 6m-12m yields went up by 50-70 basis points. In the month of March the liquidity is expected to dry up, due to advance tax outflows and redemptions by banks from the mutual fund investments. We would keep a watchful eye on the yields to structure our portfolio to keep a mix of diversified maturity assets and give consistent returns and sufficient liquidity.

Fund Manager's Comment: The Indian Fixed income markets turned bearish in the month of February. The month saw Indian government declaring the union budget for FY 10-11, which was much appreciated by equity markets, but failed to generate buying interest in debt markets. The fiscal deficit for FY 10-11 was pegged at 5.5% (in line with the market expectations), and partial rollback of the fiscal stimulus with an increase of 2% in excise duty to 10%.

In March interest rate traders would keenly watch the announcement of the G-Sec auction calendar. It is likely to be more of a front loaded, with two third of the net borrowing in the first half of the fiscal year. We expect the likely range for AAA corporate bond papers should be 8.70%-8.90% in March.
