Fund Manager's Comment: While the market volatility has been low, there has been significant volatility in individual stocks and as a result, opportunities continue to be thrown irrespective of sector and market capitalization biases. We have a positive bias on financials, media and construction and engineering where we are well above benchmark weights. On the other hand, we saw limited opportunities in FMCG and pharmaceuticals where we have a negative bias compared to the index.

EQUITY SECTOR ALLOCATION

Fund Manager's Comment: While the budget remained neutral, we believe that an impending rate cut cycle (started in January but expected to continue its run from March onwards) should boost the investment cycle and there will be a natural improvement in the infrastructure sector. We have sizeable positions in both enablers (banks and financial services) as well as capital goods, utilities and construction and engineering services.

Fund Manager's Comment: We have observed sharp movements in the heavyweights in the benchmark index and modified our portfolio accordingly. Our attempt is to use the alpha part of the portfolio to generate active returns. We own quality investments in oil & gas, pharmaceuticals and technology. While the benchmark and the portfolio may remain suppressed during a positive cycle, we believe the portfolio is fairly positioned to be with the market in a volatile period.

EQUITY SECTOR ALLOCATION

Fund Manager's Comment: We retain a positive bias in the near term on the Indian markets despite a sharp negative cut and have a positive bias on financials and construction and engineering services where a reduction in interest rates and increased investment activity should reap rich rewards. In addition, media continues to be an engaging sector with conviction calls that have stood us in good stead. We are underweight on FMCG and telecom as we believe there could be some concerns over continued positive Indian consumer sentiments.

Fund Manager's Comment: With the market taking a sharp negative turn, we held on to your portfolio with the belief that intermittent corrections are a part of a stronger market rally and remain positive on capital goods. We have also maintained an overweight stance on telecom (where we see pricing discipline) and pharmaceuticals (where there are stock-specific opportunities despite a patent cliff in the US generic markets). We continue to have a strong underweight on FMCG where the volume growth is coming down with little expectations of price hikes through the next financial year.

Fund Manager's Comment: This fund looks at high outperforming companies from the mid cap and small cap space and while this space has been battered in the last two months, it provides us opportunities to take fresh positions in some of the beaten-down names where market action exceeded any impact of deteriorating fundamentals. We have large investments in media and entertainment, financials and technology. On the other hand, we have shied away from FMCG, pharmaceuticals and capital goods in this market cap universe.

Fund Manager's Comment: Liquidity shortfall increased in the month of February to average negative INR 1098 bn from average negative INR 940 bn in January as Government ploughs back spending surplus of ~INR 1 tn. The short term rates in February i.e. 3 months shot up to close at 9.52% as compared to 8.57% in January as credit growth remained well above RBI's estimates of 16% growth for FY13 and Bank preferred to fund that with March crossing assets. The Assets under Management (AUM) decreased marginally as investors with less interest rate risk appetite moved to liquid fund; we took judicious call to cut down on average maturity thus lowering the accruals of the scheme. We intend to maintain a judicious balance between bank and non bank assets taking into account the risks embedded in the various asset classes. We continued to deliver consistent performance during the previous month.

EQUITY SECTOR ALLOCATION

Fund Manager's Comment:

Debt: The duration of the portfolio was increased slightly as compared to the previous month as investments were made in higher duration securities. We increased the maturity further as we see the direction of the rates turn favourable for capital gains and will book profits when situation turns unfavourable. We will continue with our strategy of trading in gilts as opportunity arises with a judicious mix of corporate bonds to enhance accruals in the scheme.

Equity: This marquee fund looks to invest in high quality stocks across large and mid caps where there is sizeable index outperformance potential. Despite a sharp correction in the markets, we have retained a positive bias on the market and have good holdings in financials, oil & gas and capital goods.

Gold: There has been a correction in Gold prices from the peak. However, the global uncertainties continue, especially in Europe though US is showing signs of recovery, and that makes Gold as a key investment option for an investor here in India. We have adjusted the weight of Gold in our portfolio accordingly and have a slightly reduced though still significant position.

We increased the maturity further as we see the direction of the rates turn favourable for capital gains and will book profits when situation turns unfavourable. We will continue with our strategy of trading in gilts as opportunity arises with a judicious mix of corporate bonds to enhance accruals in the scheme. The scheme increased exposure to corporate bonds in the month of February as we expect spreads to compress over the medium term from current levels.
