FROM THE INVESTMENT DESK

Dear Friends,

After 10 years of effort, India's new goods and services tax (GST) has taken effect on 1 July 2017, ushering in one of the most significant reforms in the country's history. This major reform opens a new chapter for India in terms of economic growth prospects, way of doing business and most importantly strengthening the formal economy and increasing the tax base of the country.

The timing of the GST implementation in India could not have been better as inflation is under control, the Indian Rupee is stable, and digitization thrust is at its peak. GST would broaden the formal economy and increase the tax base in the country, directing the Government's focus in infrastructure development and easing Government control across sectors. Demonetization just before the GST implementation will now be seen as a blessing in disguise as awareness of digitization increased even among the smaller businesses.

India is set to climb up in ease of doing business ranking now. In fact, the countries participating in the G20 Summit have praised the Indian government for its efforts in the areas of startup funding, ease of doing business and labour reforms. Even rating-agency Moody's said that over the medium term, GST will contribute to productivity gains and a higher GDP growth, thus boosting India's attractiveness as an investment destination. We feel all this may improve India's credit profile, sooner than later.

GST is expected to have a benign impact on inflation and is expected to boost GDP by 1-2% in the long run with some short term disruption.

Over the years, corporate India has postponed private investment in core sectors. We strongly believe that GST is likely to be a game changer for India as idled capacities are likely to be rekindled giving operating leverage to companies and fresh capacities are likely to be added across sectors as the share of organized sector increases.

Indian market is likely to remain volatile in the short to medium term as sentiments would be driven by hostile situations prevailing near Indo-China border and North Korea's Inter Ballistic Missile tests. Also, GST may distort earnings in the short term, may be a quarter, which may compel investors to remain on the sidelines. However, we strongly believe, against consensus belief, that the GST is likely to get absorbed sooner as businesses cannot do away with it, but to adopt it. Also, satisfactory monsoon progress and strong liquidity flows may absorb corrections in the market.

On the Global front, macros appears to be improving supported by manufacturing activity, global trade growth and rising property prices in the major economies. Uneasiness amid the apparent shift among global central banks to a more-hawkish stance hampered the market sentiments. On geopolitics, situation in both Middle East and Korean peninsula remains fluid.

Happy Investing!

The significant policy reforms in coal, gas, infrastructure and power sector is providing significant boost to the sector's future outlook. Infrastructure remains an important pillar of India growth story and we have strong conviction of its come back in near future. Sector has been under pressure since last few years due to multiple factors. We expect the sector to outperform in the coming times.

Fund Manager's Comment: The scheme will try to invest in emerging themes in the next few years and play it through a blend of mid-cap and large cap stocks. For example, the Indian government's ambitious target of doubling farm income by 2022 should benefit stocks in the rural theme. Similarly, GST will lead to formalisation of economy and benefit sectors where the share of unorganised players is higher. Again, government's 'Housing for All' project will benefit cement, building material players and Housing Finance companies. The scheme will try to construct a portfolio in-and-around such emerging themes.

Fund Manager's Comment: Scheme has bias towards high quality large cap stocks with overweight position in BFSI and rural consumption plays. The sustained regulatory change and positive policy frame work coupled with economic recovery should prove to be tailwind for the stocks in the BFSI sector. The Indian government's ambitious target of doubling farm income by 2022 should benefit stocks in the rural theme. Increase in weight in the cyclical commodity sector is tactical in nature.

Fund Manager's Comment: Our overall call has been inspired by the revival of the demand in the areas of specific focus by Government. We have added few more NBFC's to take advantage of this. We have maintained a positive bias on Private Banks given their resilience to generate profitability in stressed times. In PSU banks the exposure has been restricted to larger players with relatively improving asset quality outlook and faster prospects of stabilisation.

Fund Manager's Comment (Debt Schemes):

The consumer price inflation (CPI) index came in at 2.18% for the month of May 2017, indicating benign inflationary conditions in the economy.

The monetary policy committee (MPC) of the Reserve Bank of India (RBI) kept policy interest rates on hold during their meeting in June. Statutory Liquidity Ratio (SLR) was however reduced by 0.5%.

At least one member of the committee however wanted a 0.5% reduction in policy interest rates in view of the benign inflationary conditions in the economy. Some other members were however of the view that it was preferable to wait for the transitory effects (on inflation) to wear off before making a change in the policy interest rates.

The RBI also unexpectedly announced an open market sale of securities for the first week of July. In view of this benchmark 10 year government bond yield rose by 10 basis points from approx. 6.45% to 6.55%.

Liquidity situation within the system did not witness any material change with the surplus reducing gradually. Currency in circulation has been going up progressively and was at about INR 15.3 trn by the end of June.

The Assets under management for the fund have reduced significantly and hence it is not economical to deploy the funds in assets. Consequently, the entire fund has been invested in the CBLO segment of the overnight money market. Returns from the fund therefore mirror the overnight money market rates.

How to read Factsheet

Fund Manager : An employee of the asset management company such as a mutual fund or life insurer, who manages investments of the scheme. He is usually part of a larger team of fund managers and research analysts.

Application Amount for Fresh Subscription : This is the minimum investment amount for a new investor in a mutual fund scheme.

Minimum Additional Amount : This is the minimum investment amount for an existing investor in a mutual fund scheme.

Yield to Maturity : The Yield to Maturity or the YTM is the rate of return anticipated on a bond if held until maturity. YTM is expressed as an annual rate. The YTM factors in the bond's current market price, par value, coupon interest rate and time to maturity.

SIP : SIP or systematic investment plan works on the principle of making periodic investments of a fixed sum. It works similar to a recurring bank deposit. For instance, an investor may opt for an SIP that invests Rs. 500 every 15th of the month in an equity fund for a period of three years.

NAV : The NAV or the net asset value is the total asset value per unit of the mutual fund after deducting all related and permissible expenses. The NAV is calculated at the end of every business day. It is the value at which the investor enters or exits the mutual fund.

Benchmark : A group of securities, usually a market index, whose performance is used as a standard or benchmark to measure investment performance of mutual funds, among other investments. Some typical benchmarks include the Nifty, Sensex, BSE200, BSE500, 10 - Year Gsec.

Entry Load : A Mutual fund may have a sales charge or load at the time of entry and/or exit to compensate the distributor/agent.

Entry load is charged at the time an investor purchases the units of a mutual fund. The entry load is added to the prevailing NAV at the time of investment. For instance, if the NAV is Rs. 100 and the entry load is 1%, the investor will enter the fund at Rs. 101

Note: SEBI, vide circular dated June 30, 2009 has abolished entry load and mandated that upfront commission to distributors will be paid by the investor directly to the distributor, based on his assessment of various factors including the service rendered by the distributor.

Exit Load : Exit load is charged at the time an investor redeems the units of a mutual fund. The exit load is reduced from the prevailing NAV at the time of redemption. The investor will receive redemption proceed at net value of NAV less Exit Load. For instance if the NAV is Rs. 100 and the exit load is 1% the investor will receive Rs. 99.

Modified Duration : Modified duration is the price sensitivity and the percentage change in price for a unit change in yield

Standard Deviation : Standard deviation is a statistical measure of the range of an investment's performance. When a mutual fund has a high standard deviation, it means its range of performance is wide, implying greater volatility.

Sharp Ratio : The Sharp Ratio, named after its founder, the Nobel Laureate William Sharpe, is a measure of risk-adjusted returns. It is calculated using standard deviation and excess return to determine reward per unit of risk.

Beta : Beta is a measure of an investment's volatility vis-a-vis the market. Beta of less than 1 means that the security will be less volatile than the market. A beta of greater than 1 implies that the security's price will be more volatile than the market.

AUM : AUM or assets under management refers to the recent / updated cumulative market value of investments managed by a mutual fund or any investment firm.

Holdings : The holdings or the portfolio is a mutual fund's latest or updated reported statement of investments/securities. These are usually displayed in terms of percentage to net assets or the rupee value or both. The objective is to give investors an idea of where their money is being invested by the fund manager.

Nature of Scheme : The investment objective and underlying investments determine the nature of the mutual fund scheme. For instance, a mutual fund or growth fund. Likewise, a mutual fund that aims at capital preservation by investing in debt markets is a debt fund or income fund. Each of these categories may have sub-categories.

Rating Profile : Mutual funds invest in securities after evaluating their creditworthiness as disclosed by the rating. A depiction of the mutual fund in various investments based on their ratings becomes the rating profile of the fund. Typically, this is a feature of debt funds.
